THE TRIUMPHANT TIGER

Mr. Harry H. Wilson

On behalf of the faculty and student body, the Chart staff dedicates this, the 1965 Chart, to Mr. Harry H. Wilson, former teacher and director, who has contributed much toward making Tech an even greater school.

GO GET 'EM

Fighting spirit and teamwork were only two traits displayed by the Tigers from the beginning of the 1940 tournament, when they mashed Dyer, 37-21, in the Sectionals, until the final minutes of the championship game when they left Mitchell downhearted and defeated by a score of 33 to 21.

The 1940 players were handicapped by not having a gym in which to practice; they used the facilities of the Civic Center.

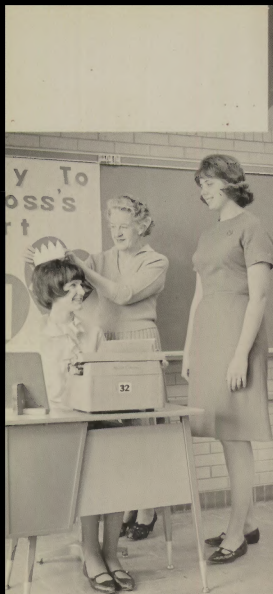

But they overcame this handicap to become Indiana's State Champions of 1940! (For picture of championship team, see page 181.)

TIGER, GET 'EM!

A cheering student body on the sidelines screaming inspiration-- a team on the hardwood floor responding with all-out effort to win-- here was the combination of spectator and participant -- acting as a single fighting spirit -- that brought Northwest Indiana its first State crown in basketball twenty -five years before this 1965!

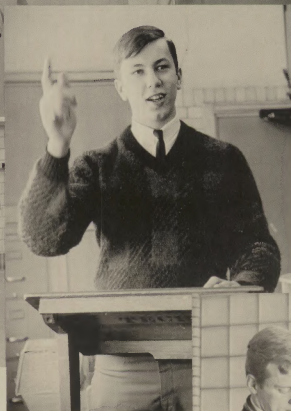

A girl praised for her speed and accuracy on a typewriter . . .

A boy taking leadership of the student body . . .

A student orator winning over opponents from other schools . . .

THE TRIUMPH

This single fighting spirit--symbolized by the tiger--manifested itself in dramatic fashion in 1940! But this Tiger spirit is a Tech tradition and, in countless ways during Tech's history, championship achievement has been engendered by the school urging students to best efforts. This has been the continuing story of a school and its students -- daily achievement as a consequence of Tiger spirit!

Thus has been the story of 1965 for Technical Vocational High School, home of
ANT TIGER

Oscar Ortegon was elected Student Council president for 1964-'65. He had been a council member as a freshman, treasurer as a sophomore, and the vice-president as a junior.

Oscar was the Varsity Basketball captain, the 1965 Homecoming King, and a member of the Letterman's Club for three years. He received Senior Mirror awards for Best Looking and for Best All-Around Senior, represented Tech at a Rotary meeting, and participated in the Senior Class Play.

THE TRIUMPH

A student stepped before an assembly and voiced an oath as Student Council president. Fellow students, by use of ballots, had expressed faith in his ability to lead; they shared in this moment of victory with him and in the success of a year's activities. A tradition of responsible effort shared by leaders and followers alike gave Tech activities a championship quality in 1965.

Formal and Informal Dances . . .

Keeping in step to the music at one of Tech's soc-hops.

"Wonderland by Night" was the theme of the semi-formal dance sponsored by the Student Council, Dec. 23, 1964. The Squires provided entertainment while the students danced and talked. A "Victory Soc Hop" was held in the Gym after the Hammond High basketball game. It was sponsored by Girls' Club, and music was provided by the Jaguars, the band that took first place in last year's Tech Spectacular. "Sentimental Journey" was the name given to Tech's '64 Prom. It was held at Madura's Danceland where the couples danced to the music of Pat Demure's band.

Dancing and refreshments were enjoyed by students at the winter semi-formal, "Wonderland by Night."

The Jaguars provided the entertainment at the Victory Soc-Hop, sponsored by the Girls' Club.

Seniors Got Mirror Awards

"Sayanara" was the theme of the Junior-Senior Party, which took place in the Cafeteria Jan. 20, 1965. At this party, which was sponsored by the Junior Class, the Senior Mirror Awards were presented to the deserving seniors. The awards were presented by the Junior Class officers, Byron Lamont and Mary Skratsky.

Steve Grelcki and Kathy Saturday, seniors, are about to receive their Senior Mirror awards.

Beatnik Party

The "Hillbilly-Beatnik Party" was the name of the junior-senior party, sponsored by the seniors, Wednesday, Oct. 21, 1964. Mr. Adams, student teacher, playing his guitar, sang folk songs. Members of the Senior Class entertained the students with a skit, "Hillbillies vs. Beatniks." The best dressed beatnik and hillbilly were chosen and refreshments and a dance contest ended the party.

Stephens Starred as Mr. Day

The comedy, Life with Father, was presented by Tech's drama groups Nov. 13, 1964, in the auditorium. The entire play takes place in New York during the 1880's and revolves around Clarence Day, played by John Stephens, and the Day household. Others who participated were Debbie Thompson, Dan Betustak, Daniel Young, Mike Bodnar, Joe Hegyes, Diana Osika, Sandy Ackerman, Jerry Denys, Larry Jeffries, Danny Williams, Peggy Wilkison, Shirley Smulski, Polly Davis, and Mary Corey.

"A war with the United States will put us back on our feet," explains Shirley Smulski to Oscar Oregon and Bill Hatton.

"There's a meeting of the Privy Council at the palace, Tully," reports Judy Doppler.

"What was Grand Fenwick like?" asks Ray Shaw.

Class of '65 Presented 'Mouse That Roared'

The Senior Class of '65 presented the class play, "The Mouse That Roared," April 21. It was a two-act comedy about a small country, Grand Fenwick, invading the United States during a practice air-raid alert. During the attack they capture a brilliant nuclear scientist, played by Joe Johnston. Others included in the cast were Shirley Smulski, as Gloriana the Twelfth of Grand Fenwick; Carl Sharp, high constable of Grand Fenwick; Mike Bosch, President of the United States; and many other seniors.

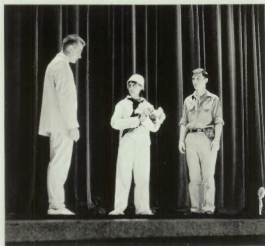

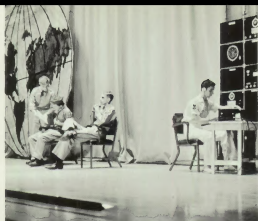

"Please let me make the bomb safer," pleads Joe Johnston.

Rogers.

Tech's Drama and Vocal Music Departments presented "South Pacific," a musical by Rogers and Hammerstein, on March 11 and 12. The play was directed by Mrs. Lucille Parre, drama instructor and Miss Virginia Volkman, vocal music instructor.

The story takes place on an island in the South Pacific where a group of G.I.'s are stationed. Some of the highlights were the shower scene with Ensign Nelly Forbush, played by Linda Donelson and Kathy Zelanik, and the Hawaiian dance at the end of the Thanksgiving Follies, performed by Ron Rogers and Jerry Crane as Luther Billis.

Friends and Parents Came To

Mr. Leonard Weddle, Foreign Service speaker, being interviewed by members of Tech Times, after speaking to the government classes. From left to right are Judy Doppler, Mr. Wozniak, Mr. Weddle, Miss Pechl, Mr. Adams, and Mr. Callantue.

Mr. William Parson, principal, thanks Judge William Obermiller for his assembly address entitled "A Judge Looks at Youth."

Mrs. Andrew Polus, P.T.A. president, Mrs. J. DeBoer, Mrs. Stanley Kwasny, co-chairman of the membership committee, collect membership money from Mr. Walt Viellie, varsity football coach.

A civil defense program for Tech was discussed by, from left, Mrs. Shirley Mehleck, R.N., chairman of the Civil Defense Committee for Tech and school nurse; Mr. Harold Orman, director of the Office of Civil Defense for the City of Hammond; and Mr. T. M. Flack, Industrial Coordinator and a committee member. Shelter areas, first aid, enemy attacks, warning systems, and fire drill practice were some of the subjects discussed at the conference.

Steve Hoeman, 1960 graduate of Tech, former Student Council president, and son of Mr. Paul Hoeman, drafting instructor, talks to his father and Eric Galster, a student in one of his classes, during a recent visit. Steve, a graduate of Iowa State College, is now teaching English in an Aurora, Ill., junior high school. He also coaches wrestling and baseball.

Demonstrating the reading machine purchased by the P.T.A. is Carey McCallen, sophomore, to Mrs. Andrew Polus, president of the P.T.A., Mrs. Ruby Markavich, second vice-president of the P.T.A., Mr. Edward Rudd, development reading instructor, and Mrs. Arch Kennedy, P.T.A. member.

Mr. Andrew Adaska, drafting and audio-visual instructor, explains a drawing done by John Newlun to eighth grade visitors from Lafayette School.

Mrs. D. Sutter, speech therapist, gave Jerry Crane, sophomore a speech test.

P.T.A. members assisted the nurse who gave eye, ear, and weight tests to all sophomores.

Tech To Help or Just To Visit

Visitors during American Education Week are Mr. and Mrs. Edward Smiley, who are being shown through Miss Ruth Clency's Art Shop by their daughter, Caryl Smiley, junior. Displaying one of his art projects is David Hildrith, freshman, who is an art student and Tech Times cartoonist.

Thanking Mr. Bill Lichtsinn, (second from right) president of Lichtsinn Motors, Inc., for the donation of a new VW engine is Mr. Marion Norris, (third from right) Auto Shop instructor, while Mr. Bill Tausend, service manager for Import Marts Limited, Mr. T. Flack, industrial co-ordinator, Mr. John Lee, service manager for Lichtsinn Motors, Inc., and Mr. Fred Schaefer, zone service manager for Volkswagen of America, Inc., look on.

Shirley Bandwick, second from left, is asking Miss Colleen Chirinos and Sister Mary Ambrose, both on the staff of St. Margaret's Hospital, about health career opportunities, a subject discussed also with the students of Mrs. Geraldine Sherley (left) and Mr. Loren Hoch, biology instructor.

Talking with Mr. Loren Hoch, biology instructor, and Dr. Robert Cooper, head of the Science Department of Ball State University, after Dr. Cooper's lecture on Alaska, is Gary Bellamy, freshman, and Linda Southerland, senior.

P.T.A. officers for the year '64-'65 are, seated from left, Mrs. Joseph Markavitch, second vice-president; Mrs. Andrew Polus, president, and Mr. Thomas Strauser, first vice-president. Standing are Mr. Darrell Mazura, treasurer; Mr. Arch Kennedy, secretary, and Mr. William Parson, Tech's principal.

Tech Faculty Honored Mr. Wilson

A retirement banquet was given Oct. 17, 1964, for Mr. Harry H. Wilson, who retired as director of Tech. This dinner was in appreciation for all the fine work he did in his seven years as director.

Also honored, Nov. 12, 1964, was Mr. Gerald Kackley, math instructor and Senior Class sponsor. A dinner was given by the teachers of Hammond for his efforts to benefit teachers and education.

Mr. H. H. Wilson, former director of Tech, gives best wishes to Mr. W. E. Parson, the new principal.

"We like Kackley" was the theme of the Kackley Banquet honoring Mr. Kackley, held at a restaurant in Schererville.

Mr. Donald Gavitt, former business manager of the Hammond Public Schools, greets Mr. Gerald Kackley.

The Band presented spring and winter concerts during 1964-'65. Some of the main attractions during the winter concert were the "jug band" and the many brisk marches played under the direction of Mr. Arnold Robinson, Band instructor. The new uniforms were worn for the first time at this concert. They are black and trimmed in gold. The attachable gold converters conceal a suit style uniform for concert wear. The overlay converter will be worn with the West Point shaks style hats for marching. Money was donated by various organizations and the Band earned the rest with tag days, candy sales, and concerts.

Here the band plays one of its many selections under the direction of Mr. Arnold Robinson, Band director.

The Rotary Club speech contest of 1965 was won by Mike Golem, senior, who competed against students from all the Hammond high schools. In his speech, Mike put forth the view that Congress should provide medical care for the aged. He was chosen to represent Tech as a result of his work in Mrs. Parre's speech class. Mike had also been a participant in football and basketball during his high school career.

Mary Bohling, who also represented Tech, won second place in the contest.

THE TRIUMPH

Daily a student became a better speaker; skillful tutoring and the warm response of classmates were the necessary complements to his own desire. The time came for proof of progress: he won highest honors for speaking in competition with students from other schools. His achievement was a victory for Tech and its classes where all learning is promoted by a tradition of friend inspiring friend.

Social Studies Students Adopted Oh Sae Won

Social studies classes in 1965 adopted a new orphan boy, Oh Sae Won, born in Korea on Dec. 24, 1959. Kim, the previous Korean orphan girl, no longer needed Tech's support. Subjects included in this department in 1965 were economics, geography, world history, U.S. history, and government.

Mrs. Byrne's second hour U. S. History 2 class is the scene of discussions on current events.

This year's Korean orphan was Oh Sae Won.

Mr. Viellieu encourages students to participate in discussions in his second period geography class.

English Students Bought 1000 Books at Fair

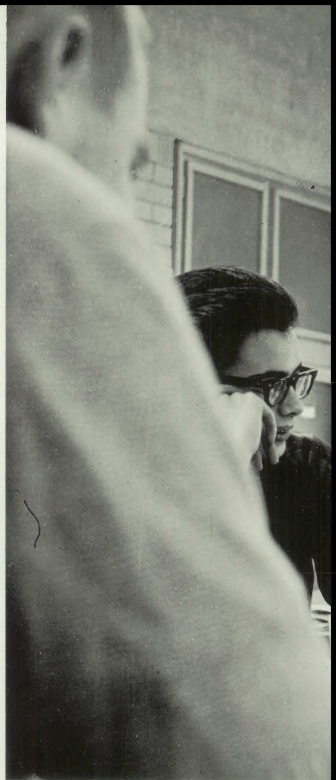

Mr. Roesler's sixth hour literature class studies Beowulf.

Every student at Tech in 1964-65 was required to take seven semesters of English. Those on the Technical Course were required to take eight semesters. Literature, composition, speech, drama, and journalism were all included in the English Department. This year's Book Fair, sponsored by the English Department, Student Council, and the Library, sold nearly 1,000 books. The profit collected from the Book Fair was $155.34. This was divided three ways to be used by the three groups.

Mrs. Kackley and her student teacher, Miss Peterson of Indiana University, advise students on their topics for discussion.

Discussing the front page of the newspaper in Mr. Clyne's Journalism class are Tony Spindler and Sue Seljan.

A Science Class For Everyone

Students wishing to further their knowledge of science did so in the various science classes at Tech during the year. Those students on the Technical Course were required to take chemistry, biology, and physics. For the students on the Vocational Course, general science and physical science were required. In general science the students worked in all fields of science. Those students in physical science were introduced to the elementary concepts of physics and chemistry.

Slides are being studied by Shirley Janik in Mrs. Sherfey's third hour biology class.

Lectures were given by Mrs. Sherfey to her third hour Biology I class.

Surface tension is being explained to Annette Oakley and Kenny Nitz by Mrs. Morrow in her Physical Science class.

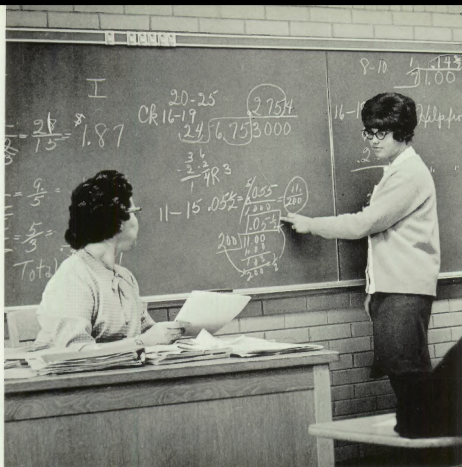

Jim Anderson, Roger Allen, and their classmates watch as Mr. Welty explains the principle of Archimedes in physics class.

Experiments in Mrs. Davis's third hour chemistry class are being done by Sue Carter and Marcia Tsouchlos.

Tech Conducted A Math Course For Every Need

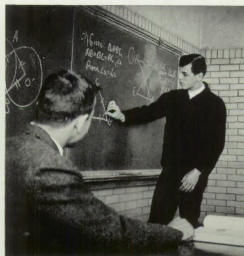

Discussing a problem at the board in Miss Wade's math class is Patricia Wojtyen.

Math classes during the year varied to supply the need of every student. For the student who wished to attend college, algebra, geometry, and trigonometry were provided. Pupils took general math and business math to help them in their future occupations both at home and office. Shop math was taken by boys who wanted to specialize in the math of their chosen vocations. Another type of math instruction at Tech was special math. In this class the student's total mathematical skills were analyzed through standardized tests. He was then given math suited to his needs.

Mr. Fuller's teaching techniques are greatly appreciated by his trigonometry class.

Dean Witcki shows how to work a problem in Mr. Michel's first hour geometry class.

All of Tech's

Deanna Croft and Linda Donelson are just two of Mrs. Mehleck's nurse's aides.

Linda Donelson, one of the nurse's aides, takes a temperature.

Health-Care of one's health was the concern of all students in 1965. Physical education was required for all freshmen. Students also took health and safety; they learned health of the body, first aid, and safety rules.

Home-Home Management, Home Nursing, Homemaking, and Family Living all helped the students with their life in the home.

Taking the temperature of Lana Wilkerson is Mary Parker, as four of Miss Daggett's Home Nursing students look on.

Viewing a model heart in Mr. Wilson's health and safety class are Lupe Gutierrez and Lester Stokes.

Periods of furniture were discussed by Linda Ostrom, Kathleen White, Alacia Zelanik, Micky Jordan, and Phyllis Knight in Miss Daggett's Home Management class.

Social problems of teenagers are among the many topics of discussion conducted by Mrs. Higgins in Family Living class.

Square dancing was one of the many activities the girls in Miss Winter's physical Education class participated in.

Mr. Viellieu watches his sixth period physical education class play a game of football.

The topic for discussion in Mr. Waite's health and safety class was the skeletal system.

Fine Arts Subjects Were Also Included

Students were given the opportunity to learn to appreciate the fine arts. Those students who were interested in art were able to express themselves in various projects in Art Class. Other students who had musical ability could either participate in the Band, in one of the many vocal music groups, or as a student in Piano Class or Music Appreciation Class. In Tech Times and Chart a student was given the opportunity to express his creativity in photography, writing, or design. Visual Aids was also included as an elective. Study hall time permitted students to work on homework and gave them a chance to visit the library.

Listening to and discussing many different types of music was a part of Miss Kemna's Music Appreciation Class.

Marie Nicpon, of the Tech Times staff, interviews Mr. Parson for a Tech Times story.

New Courses . . .

Fifty Students Took First Spanish Class

For the first time at Tech a foreign language, Spanish, was added to the curriculum. Approximately fifty students, from varying grade levels and for different reasons, chose to study Spanish. Classroom activities included practicing conversations in Spanish and learning the fundamentals of grammar in order to successfully perform reading and writing tasks. Outside activities included a trip to a Spanish restaurant to have a typical Spanish meal and a Christmas party where students celebrated by breaking a pinata.

Special Education Classes Were Begun

Tech's special education classes, new in 1964-65, were designed to help people receive the education they wanted. If a student was having trouble in English, mathematics, or social studies, he took a special education class to help him along. In these classes the students worked at their own levels and at their own rates of speed. Material covered in these classes dealt with such things as what a particular job is like, skills required, vocabulary, efficient methods, and using a transportation schedule.

Mrs. V. Lewis used film strips to conduct her special education class.

... And Some Old Ones

Shown here inspecting plants in Mrs. Sherfey's third hour botany class are Charles Moser, Ed Pinkerton, and Wayne Frey.

Way To Boss's heart

The annual "Queen of Hearts" contest was won by Janice Golonka, senior. A Typing 4 student, Janice typed 68 net words a minute. Linda Bryson, senior, was a runner-up in this contest. Other finalists were Beverly Weightman, Terri Spindler, and Sandy Hanish.

Winners were determined as a result of five-minute timings taken in Typing 3 and 4 with the highest words per minute and the fewest errors.

THE TRIUMPH

A beginning typist fumbled for keys . . . her eye on a distant job in business. Instruction and constant practice , however, brought her greater speed and accuracy. Pitted in friendly competition with classmates one day, she discovered she was competent enough to win a typing contest . . . In Tech shops in 1965, all rejoiced in the accomplishments of one student who excelled and who paced others to greater vocational competence.

Five Electric Shops Helped Boys Train For Future

Mike White is troubleshooting the horizontal section of a television set in Mr. Buehrle's Electronics Shop.

Repairing a dryer in HomeApplianceShop is Dan Pasternak, Bob Ackerman, and Mr. Jones, instructor.

There were in 1965 five shops dealing with electricity. Exploratory Electric, required for freshman boys, was a basic introduction. Electric 1 and 2 included instruction in house wiring, telephone circuits, electric motors, controls, and other electric devices. In Electronics, basic radio and TV circuits were learned, also proper use of test equipment. Home Appliance Shop taught boys to repair washers, dryers, refrigerators, and other electrical appliances.

George Gripp is working at a distribution board in Mr. Hobb's Electric II Shop.

Boys in Mr. Binstock's Exploratory Electric Shop study the basic electrical circuits.

Dennis Burke, Curtis Smith, Mr. Kompiier, and Charles Dills are working on a wiring board in Electric I Shop.

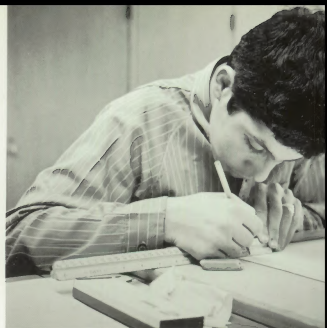

Working on a radio in Mr. Kompiier's Electric I Shop are Richard Metzger, Mel Rice, Joe Hooper, and John Slouf.

All Phases of Drafting Offered at Tech

Tech required freshman boys in 1965 to take Exploratory Drafting as an introduction. Boys on a technical program took Technical Drafting which taught mechanical drawing orientation to college bound engineering students. Mechanical Drawing, taken by boys on vocational courses, taught basic tool operations. Vocational Drafting was taken by boys who had already taken Mechanical Drawing to learn all phases of drafting.

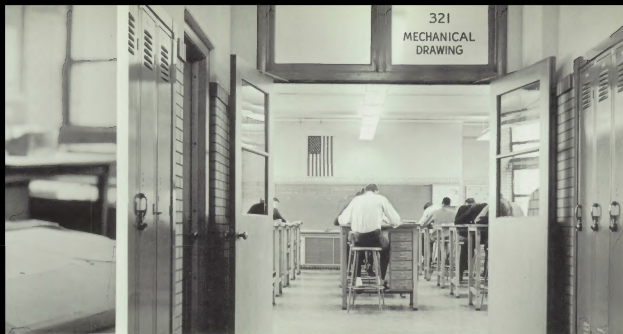

Daily assignments are part of the work done by Vincent Formosa in Mr. Shreder's exploratory drafting shop.

Mr. Hoemann gives Joe Slamon a bit of advice during his sixth hour Technical Drafting class.

Assistance is given by Mr. Esterhay to Rich Benak, one of his eighth hour drafting students.

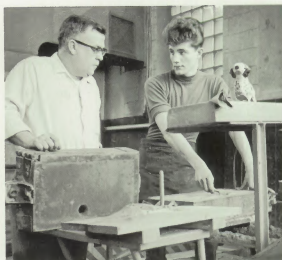

Everybody is busy in the Mechanical Drawing Room.

Metal Working Was Taught in Seven Shops

Tech in 1965 offered seven metals courses for boys. Freshmen were required to take Exploratory Metals, which introduced basic tools, machines, operations, and materials. Machine Shop students learned to use metal-working machines. Boys in Sheet Metal Shop were taught fundamentals of duct work. Forge and Foundry Shop boys learned elements of making and using sand molds and shaping malleable metals. Welding Shop taught all phases of welding. Pipefitting Shop taught boys to cut, thread, and assemble many types of pipe.

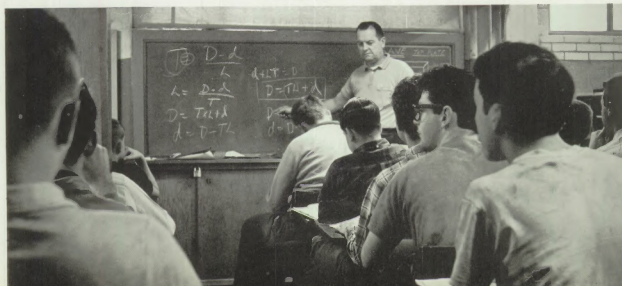

Mr. Ranney watches Pete Illic, shop foreman, prepare a sand mold in Foundry Shop.

Boys work on their projects in Mr. Stecyk's Machine Shop.

Mr. Lazarsz instructs his students on related information as they take notes in Machine 2.

Bob Sanders is practicing the use of oxy-acetylene welding in Mr. Kennedy's Welding Shop.

Working on a foot scraper in Mr. Praed's Exploratory Metals Shop is Wesley Dudley.

Measuring roof flashings in Mr. Hoffman's Sheet Metal Shop is Don Hill.

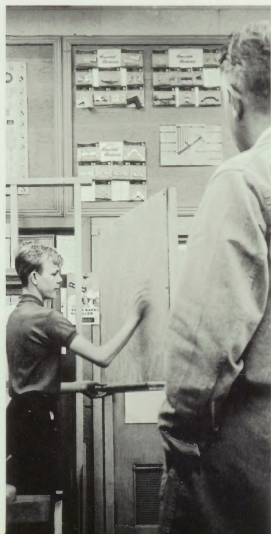

John Ables and Hector DeJesus construct a model house in Mr. Jaris's Carpentry Shop.

Good Design, Layout Stressed By Wood Shops

Boys interested in woodworking studied good layout and design, selection of lumber, and the use of hand and power tools and machines. Exploratory Wood, required for all freshman boys, taught basic tools, tool operations, and materials. Boys interested in woodworking furthered their training in Carpentry, which taught students to construct houses using hand tools and electric portable machinery, or in Pattern and Cabinetmaking Shop, where students learned basic procedures for laying out, making, and constructing patterns for castings made in foundry and to construct, repair, and finish items of furniture.

Roger Allen turns his project on the lathe in Pattern-making and Cabinet Shop.

Students receive information about different types of wood and their origin from Mr. Stemper in his Exploratory Wood Shop.

Douglas Ziemack watches Mr. Shaw as he checks a pattern with a gauge.

Offset Printing Introduced; Auto Shop Presented Engines

PRINTING- Print Shop students in 1965 were introduced to all phases of offset instruction as the result of new offset equipment installed to bring course work up to date. Students were still instructed in letter press printing, design, and binding.

AUTO- New equipment was donated to Auto II Shop during the year. General Motors, through Knoerzer's, donated a 1964 Oldsmobile engine, Buick and Chevrolet transmissions, tools, and four alternators. Lichtsinn Motors was instrumental in our obtaining a new VW engine and transmission-differential.

Mr. DeLaney is discussing with John Gaul and Mike Golen the job of printing they are doing.

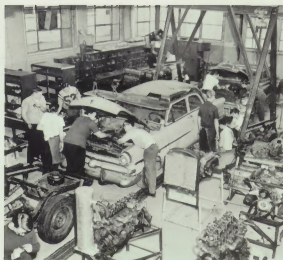

Wallace Boyd is setting type in Mr. DeLaney's Printing II Shop.

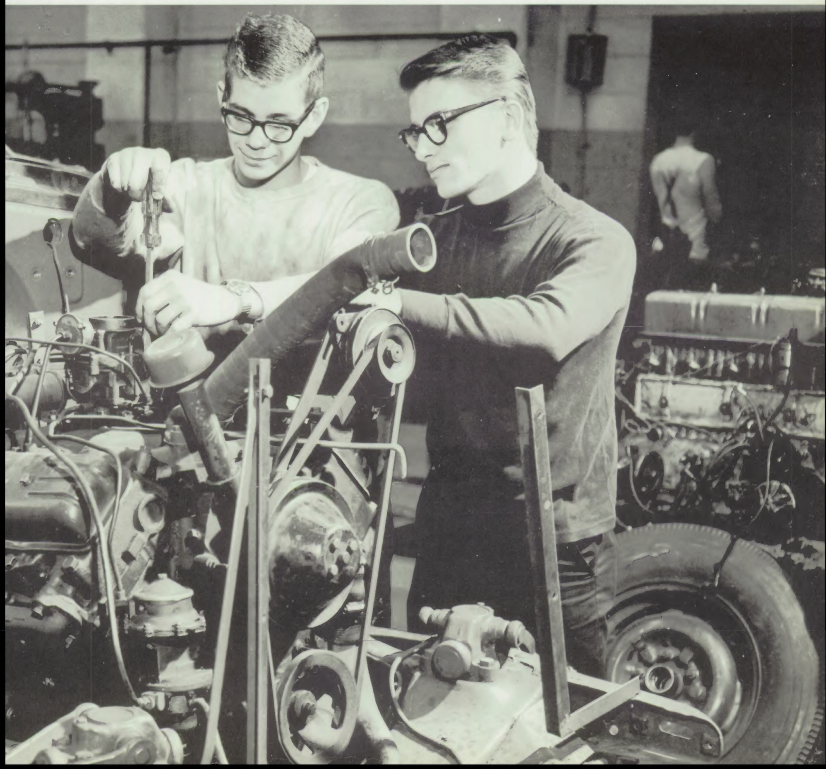

Working on an automobile engine in Mr. Norris's Auto II Shop are Tom Stines and Bob Jurgons.

Working on a linotype machine are Mike Golem and Mike Ryba.

The boys in Auto I are working on their various projects.

Miss Vaidlik watches her Typing I Class do their conditioning practice.

Discussing a job in Practical Service are Miss Abarr and Janet Molenda.

Stenographic Students Took

Mrs. Detwiler assists Marcia Zelinski with a job in Typing 2 Class.

Dictation at 100 to 120

W. P. M.

Requirements for girls on the Stenographic Course are one year of Shorthand and one year of Transcription. Girls completing these classes can take dictation from 100 to 120 words per minute. Introduction to Business, Comptometer, Filing, and four semesters of Typing must be taken. In Business Essentials girls are sent on practice job interviews. Operating a switchboard, using files, and machines as those in an office are the objective of the Office Practice Class.

The girls in Mr. Mazura's Filing Class work on various jobs.

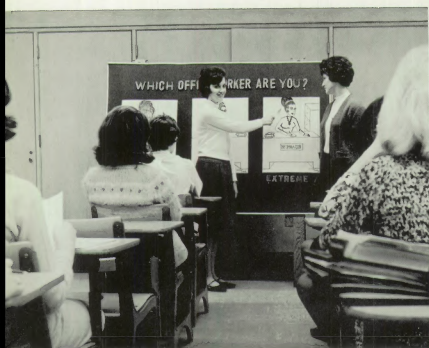

In Recordkeeping Mrs. Valva Wood explains how to do a job to Shirley Upshaw as Sharon Charleston looks on.

Diane Hesterman works on a Burrough's Comptometer in Mr. Velligan's Business Machines Class.

Sharon Konarski and Gail Herrin lead the Business Essentials Class in a discussion of proper appearance of an office worker.

Clerical Students Learned Office Duties

Clerical Course students during the year learned responsibilities of office workers by taking some of their duties. Filing students kept neat, up-to-date files. Students in Business Machines learned to add, subtract, multiply, and divide. Bookkeeping taught the complete cycle of a business transaction and recording it. Practical Service and Introduction to Business provided basic training for specialized business studies. Girls learned the basic principles of typing, special forms of letters, and operation of duplicating machines in Typing 1, 2, 3, and 4. Office Practice girls worked in the School or Nurse's Offices, Cafeteria, or for teachers.

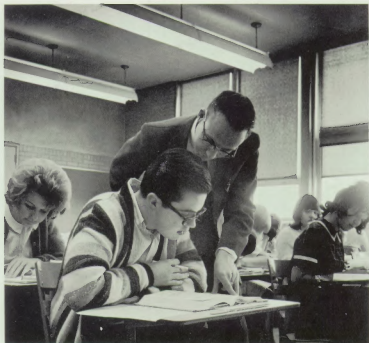

Demonstrating how to write brief forms in Miss Abarr's Shorthand I Class is Beverly DeFrates.

Marcia Tsouchlas types from her dictation in Miss Abarr's Transcription I Class.

Gayle Herrin takes care of both incoming and outgoing calls on the school switchboard in Office Practice.

Mr. Frazier assists Bob Craig with a problem in Bookkeeping Class.

Girls in Typing Classes had to concentrate on their jobs in order to type a perfect copy.

Using scales was one of the jobs required in Mr. Velligan's Introduction to Business Class. Brenda Fentress demonstrates weighing beans.

Working a cash register and counting change was one job done by Sue Eckenrode in Introduction to Business.

D. E. Students Earned While They Learned

Distributive Education was a program which taught functions of marketing, merchandising, and management used in distributive occupations. Salesmanship taught students steps of the selling process. In Retailing students studied selling, sales promotion, and customer service. Merchandising students studied retail business from organization through operating procedures. Related D.E. allowed seniors to receive individual instruction pertaining to the job which they held during afternoons; on-the-job training allowed students to work during afternoons on a job of their choice.

Steve Grelecki, senior, explains in D.E. class how to dress when going for a job interview.

Barbara Bigda is explaining to the retailing class and to Mr. Vician the stock record diagram on the board.

Laurie Bennett, senior on the D.E. course, is trying to make a sale. She works at Mary Jane's Shoe Store for her on-the-job training.

... New Vocational Program: Food Service

The Food Service program was begun in 1964-65 to give students vocational training in a field described as needing trained workers. The students learned about institutional-size equipment, sanitation, food spoilage, and the preparation and serving of food. More advanced students specializing in Foods helped to manage a class. They took inventory and learned ways to save time. Seniors were allowed during the year to work for shop credit, on-the-job, in a restaurant. The restaurant manager helped the Food Service instructor to plan and evaluate the student's work.

Roger Hayes, junior, proudly removes his finished hamburger buns from the oven in Quantity Food Preparation class.

Carol Ford and Bill Bishop knead buns in Quantity Food Preparation for Hammond grade schools.

Manuel Martinez slides baked buns into the refrigerator to keep them fresh until they are ready to be taken to grade schools.

Allen French and Michael Pens place salads on the shelves in the Cafeteria.

Sherrie Charleston serves Mr. Jimmie Miller lunch in the teacher's lunchroom.

Getting ready to eat the doughnuts they made in Mrs. Williams's Foods 2 class are Mary Quirter, Lana Wilkerson, Judy Thomas, Sharon Hollinghead, and Nancy Taylor.

Making a buttonhole in Mrs. Wood's Clothing 1 class is Christine Novak.

Girls Learned To Cook, Sew

Students in clothing classes learned to construct such items as skirts and blouses, sewing by hand or on a machine. In foods classes they practiced setting tables and planning and serving well-balanced, nutritious meals at low cost. Every girl was required to take at least one semester of foods and of clothing. Girls on the Home Economics Course could take up to four semesters of foods and clothing.

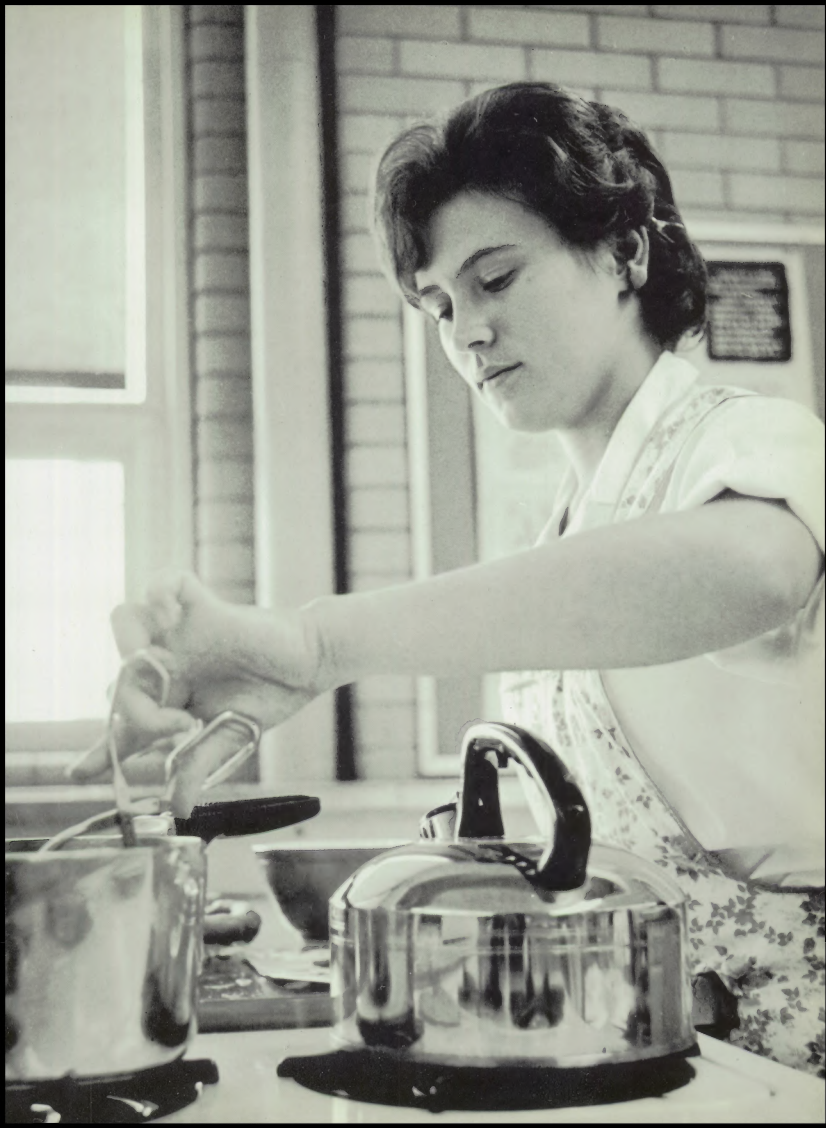

Receiving help from Mrs. A. Wood in her eighth period clothing class is Jancy Johnken.

Wanda Domagalski is working on one of the many garments she made in Mrs. Miller's eighth period clothing class.

Trying her skill at making doughnuts in Mrs. Williams's fourth period foods class is Doris O'Rourke.

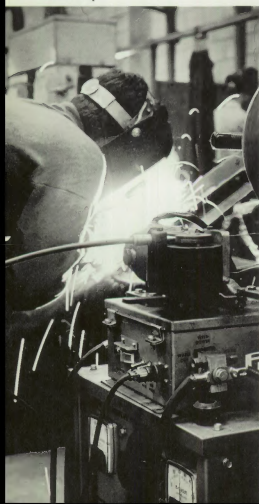

Mrs. Harriet Kramer is shown here reviewing an assignment being typed by Greta Fogarty.

Stanley Morris is demonstrating how to use the newest type of welding machine in Mr. Kennedy's afternoon shop.

Judy Thomas is pictured typing out a job which will be filed and checked in Mr. Mazura's Filing Class.

Mr. Zink shows Don Rose and Ricky Kozarz how to properly do a job in the Pipelinting Shop.

Displaying the parts used to build the automated sink are Ewing, Fusner, Markovich, Nelson, Boer, Billingsley, and J. Ulman, foreman.

Presenting to Mr. Norris the engine stands which were built in Tech shops are Stanley Morris and Gene Hilgoth, welders for the job; and Jim Florer, machinist for the job.

Charles Staley works at a job in Electronics Shop.

Smoothering an edge on some sheet metals Don Hill, a member of Mr. Hoffman's afternoon shop.

Barry Carty is working at a signal wiring board in Mr. Simpser's Electric I Shop.

Weight and measure job is being done in Miss Abarr's Practical Service class by Phyllis Knight.

Learning how to use a scale is Brenda Fentress in the seventh hour Introduction to Business class.

Mr. M. Siecyk looks on as Benny Wainscott operates the power saw in the afternoon Machine Shop.

Alice Kwasny and Doug Lorenz admire the light table built for the Tech Times room by the Carpentry Shop.

Del Knight and Terry Shutte show some of the work done in Cabinetmaking Shop.

Explaining the parts of a standard welding mask is Mr. Kennedy to foreman Paul Oller.

Dale Ridgley and Carl Sharp were selected by the coaches as the most outstanding senior athletes for the 1964-'65 season. During their four years at Tech, both boys had shown great talent and determination.

Dale majored in track all four years, also in basketball and football. Carl majored in football, baseball, and wrestling. They were co-captains of the year's football team, both making the Hammond Times and Chicago Tribune All-star Teams. Carl also was named to the Northwest Conference All-star Team.

THE TRIUMPH

Two athletes were noted for enthusiasm, which, over a four-year span, brought skill that contributed to their being named the year's most outstanding athletes. Complementing this skill were other qualities that make athletes great: a sense of fair play, ability to lead, loyalty to school. On field they presented proud figures for Tech; the crowd cheered not only for victory but also in admiration. In all Tech sports, success by the individual or the team was regarded a victory by a joyous student body.

Edwards and Ortegon Reigned a

The royal couple for 1964: Donna Edwards and Oscar Ortegon.

Hammond Tech's 1964 Homecoming festivities were started by a roaring pep assembly on Thursday, October 1, the day before the actual Homecoming. At this pep assembly, it was announced that Tech students would be allowed to sing the school song in the halls between periods. For the rest of the day, and all the next day, this was all overheard. The scheduled pep assembly on Thursday was also supplemented by unscheduled smaller-scale pep assemblies in the Gym during 4th and 5th lunch hours on Friday. The assemblies were led by cheerleaders who happened to have lunch at that hour.

The fun continued at the Parade, which, for the second year in a row, was one of Tech's best. The winners this year in the individual divisions were Beverly Connors, first place, and Sharon Weininger, second place. Honorable mentions went to Dee Henry and Ray Shaw. First place in the shop division went to Home Appliance and second place went to the Cafeteria. Number 1963 co-Queen Beverly Foster crowns 1964 Oscar Oregon King.

The Cheerleaders led the cheers and drummed up school spirit at the Bonfire.

The Tech bench looks on anxiously as play is resumed on the field.

Young Gridders Did Well: Viellieu

The 1964 Varsity Football Team was very young, but they played very well throughout the season, according to Coach Viellieu. He also stated, that the senior captains, Carl Sharp and Dale Ridgley, did a tremendous job of leading the team with confidence. The Tigers ended this season with a 5-4 record, and placed eighth among twelve other competing teams in the Northwest Conference race.

The games won were as follows: River Forest, 13-0; Morton, 19-13; Clark, 6-0; Gavit, 21-7; Gary Emerson, 3-3. The games lost were the following: Whiting, 9-6; Hammond High, 25-13; Merrillville, 27-0; East Chicago Washington, 20-0.

Tom Martin is assisted by a half-hidden blocker as he churns up yardage for the Tigers.

Carl Sharp, number 15, runs around the end as Tom Stines, number 66, gets ready to block out the Hammond High player.

Faces of Ron Remesnik and Coach Viellien reflect the tenseness of the game.

It takes nearly the whole opposing team to bring him down, and Tom Martin still has the ball.

Juniors Class of 1966

JUNIOR CLASS HISTORY

The 1964-1965 Junior Class Officers were elected on November 20, 1964. The officers were, president, Byron LaMont; vice-president, Tom Martin; secretary, Muriel Ramsey; treasurer, Pat Horvatch; and social chairman, Mary Skratsky.

The Junior Class sponsored the Junior-Senior Party on January 20, 1965. The outstanding seniors were awarded their Mirror Awards at this party.

The Junior-Senior Prom was held on May 21, 1965, at Madura's. It was followed by an after-prom party at San Remo.

Friend

Inland Steel is here . . . for more than 70 years

For more than 70 years men and women have been building successful careers at Inland Steel. Today many of your relatives, friends and neighbors are working at the Indiana Harbor Works of Inland Steel in a wide variety of occupations providing steel that goes into bridges, buildings, refrigerators, ranges, farm machines, automobiles, tools, toys . . . into thousands of products that we use each day. Many are concentrating on certain phases of steelmaking by working in production departments. Others are working in laboratories helping to assure quality or developing new and better products for our customers.

Some are gaining knowledge and experience in special trades through formal apprenticeship programs offered in the following trades —Machinist, Patternmaking, Boilermaking, Welding, Shop Electrician, Wireman, Mason. Inland offers the high school graduate an excellent opportunity to further his education. Employees may participate in a variety of on-the-job training programs or the Purdue-Inland Training Program in which an employee may take a steelmaking, electrical or mechanical curriculum. Still others are continuing their formal education at one of the local extension centers.

Plan now to investigate the unlimited opportunities for you at INLAND STEEL . . .

one in the clubs was Choit, while G.A.A. was runner up.

At the Bonfire, the cheerleaders directed yells to raise the school spirit and Coach Viellieu introduced football team members.

Then the thing that everyone had waited for came to be, the game with Hammond High School. Although the Tigers played well and displayed much determination, they lost, 27-13. Hammond High scored the first two touchdowns, one on a Tech fumble, and the second on a fourth-down pass on a punt play that went bad. Then the Tigers came back to tie the score when Tom Martin ran a 23-yard touchdown and Jim O'Brien recovered an H.H.S. fumble and ran 40 yards for another touchdown. The Wildcats scored again in the second and third quarters.

At half-time, the Homecoming Queen, Donna Edwards, and the Homecoming King, Oscar Oregon, were crowned. Other royal candidates were DeWanda Swindle, Marcia Tsouchlos, Sharon Konlarski, Judy Doppler, Dale Ridgely, Dennis Dills, Carl Sharp, and Ron Jacusis.
